

Bacchus Beyond Explore Tasting

The Classics vs The Newbies

France has been the benchmark for fine wines and many new world wine makers work hard to use the classic grape varieties of France (Chardonnay, Cabernet Sauvignon, Sauvignon Blanc & Syrah) to make great wines. The question is simple - are the French classics still top of the class or have the Newbies stolen their crown? Our Classics vs Newbies tasting has been designed to explore this question by blind tasting French classics against a Newby alternative that Bacchus Beyond offers for a roughly equivalent price. There should be some interesting contests in the four we have chosen, for example pitching the award winning Winibirri Bacchus from Norfolk against the Domaine Lebrun Pouilly Fumé and the Indun Chéorgraphe from South Africa against the Le Comte de Malartic from Bordeaux. We can't predict the outcome of the four contests but can guarantee that winners will be anyone who comes along to what will be a fabulous range of exciting wines.
